

Your son moved forward to help the man and was mortally wounded.
Your sons courage and loyalty to his fellow man was an inspiration to everyone and should give you some idea of what a great man your son was. His ~~selfishness~~ and devotion were what made him the outstanding leader he was. I have put your son in for the silver star which is the fourth highest award in the Army. I fully realize your feelings but I hope you'll be proud of your son just knowing that you've raised a man and taught him respect and consideration for his fellow man.

I plan on staying in the Army and will probably return
